Refiner Rebuilding Program

When we receive your worn Refiner, the first thing we do is measure critical parts to determine what needs to be repaired or replaced to get your pump restored to original specs. We then repair or manufacture the worn parts and reassemble your refiner. All work is done to OEM specification or better.

Refiner Exchange Program

Triosim maintains an extensive collection of refiners read to exchange for your rebuildable damaged unit, each of which have been rebuilt to our demanding specifications.
